Mr. Frederic W. Boots will direct the San Jose State college symphonic band tomorrow in a concert of music written especially for band. The concert, which is free to the public, will be given in the Morris Dailey auditorium at 8:15 p.m.

Included in the program will be "Sonata Piane Forte", Giovanni Gabrieli, among the earliest known compositions for brass instruments; "Washington's Grand March", a piece from the early days of our country; "Trauersinfonie", Richard Wagner, which is funeral music on themes from Weber's "Euryanthe"; "Naval Reserve March", John Philip Sousa, one of his lesser-known marches. "Elegy Before Dawn", Norman Cazden, a unique modern work built around a single tone; "When Johnny Comes Marching Home", Roy Harris, a free adaptation for band; "Hymn and Fuguing Tune No. 1", Henry Cowell, a contemporary work with an early American flavor; "March-In Memoriam", Darius Milhaud, a composition suggesting a tribute to modern heroes; "A Solemn Music", Virgil Thomson, featuring a new utilization of the twelve-tone system; and "March, Opus 99", Serge Prokofieff.

More than 75 students will play in the symphonic band.

College Heads Vote Change In Language Requirements

California state college presidents recently voted to eliminate foreign language requirements for any major or curriculum in either the B.A. or M.A. degree programs of the state colleges.

Monday, Dr. James C. DeVoss, dean of professional education, received the minutes of the May 3 State College Presidents' conference, which tells of the elimination.

The minutes say: "In considering curriculum patterns required for academic degrees in the state colleges, note was taken of the fact that some of the colleges now require a specific number of units in foreign language for graduation.

"Following evaluation of a number of pros and cons, it was moved that the requirement for each state college degree be so worded as to make the taking of a foreign language optional with the student. The motion was seconded and passed by a voice vote."

Dean DeVoss said: "At present it has become a matter of guidance with the individual student by his major department head. Some plans for graduate work require a knowledge of one or more foreign languages."

The Fresno State college chapter of the American Association of University Professors adopted a resolution, May 9, which asks the State College Presidents' Conference to reconsider its action.

The executive committee of the San Jose chapter of the association is working on a similar resolution, which if accepted by local members, will be sent to the state college presidents for their consideration.

The Registrar's office has sent a total of 2934 blue cards to 2133 SJS students, according to Mr. Leslie Ross, assistant registrar. Blue cards are sent as warning of unsatisfactory scholarship.

Last quarter 2436 students received 3377 of the unwelcome cards. Spring quarter, a year ago, 2040 students received 2805 cards.

Mixer Committee Has Union Trouble; Brubeck Cancelled

The inability of Dave Brubeck to keep his appointment and appear at the Frosh-Soph Mixer, scheduled for last night, was through no fault of the band leader. Failure on the part of committee members to secure full union approval led to the cancellation.

Receiving approval from the local union, which was willing to let the Brubeck Quintet perform, Co-chairman Jim Fuller said his letter to the San Francisco union didn't arrive until yesterday. It was thereby too late to permit a board of directors meeting necessary for approval for the show, according to Cliff Majersik, the other co-chairman.

Mrs. Al Marbury, a former San Jose State college student, who is a personal friend of Brubeck, said that Dave was anxious to appear on the benefit program. Majersik says that all proceeds were to go to the World Student Service Fund drive.

Mrs. Marbury, who describes Brubeck as a "sincere, terrific guy", says that he hates to disappoint anyone this way, but would rather not run afoul with the San Francisco union.

The mixer will be held next week, according to Cliff Majersik, but the program will be split up, depending on arrangements with Brubeck, the San Francisco unions, and the class council.

Brubeck and Jimmy Lyons, who was to M.C. the show, both express a desire to perform for San Jose State college students and indicate that they may be able to put on an afternoon show next week.

A special class council meeting will be held today to decide the outcome of the mixer. At present, Mixer committee members are hopeful that council approval will enable all students to see the Brubeck show, when and if it finally arrives.

3000 Have Campus Water Tilt

SYRACUSE, N.Y., May 16—Ten Syracuse university students were in jail today following a three-hour water fight with fire hoses, buckets, and wastebaskets. Three thousand collegians were involved. Co-eds in raincoats and bathing suits cheered their favorites in the wet battle, and the water-slinging students spared no one.

Thirty policemen and four deputy sheriffs sped to the campus after 17 motorists complained that they had been halted and drenched—so were the policemen and deputies before they broke up the riot. The battle was between two fraternities at first, but spread quickly through the 12-block campus area.

Council Agrees On Campers ASB Elections Get Under Way

Delegates selected by the Camp Miniwanca Selection committee, were approved yesterday afternoon in an ASB council meeting in the Student Union.

Tom Evans and Mary Louise Carli will receive the two scholarships to attend Camp Miniwanca paid for by the Associated Student Body. Joyce Malone was selected to receive the same type of scholarship awarded to a freshman through Dr. Carl Rich, San Jose State college Danforth associate.

Approved as alternates for the ASB scholarships were Bob Dean and Carol Larson.

Gerrie Lopes, candidate for Women's Representative at Large, was disqualified by the Student Council for not having indicated acceptance of nomination. An ASB by-law on nomination procedure states that all nominees must indicate acceptance either in writing or orally.

A request to the Board of Control to approve $100 for the judo team in excess of their budget was passed to enable the team to participate in the Los Angeles tournament this month.

The council voted $200 to send four delegates to the Pacific Student President's association convention at Yosemite, May 24-26. Delegates chosen were Don Schaeffer, present ASB president, and next year's president, vice-president, and treasurer.

Dick Russo, Homecoming committee chairman, resigned his post as chairman of the Health committee. President Don Schaeffer appointed Mike Barchi to fill the position.

ASB elections will be held in the east wing of the Student Union tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock. Polls will close at 4 p.m. and re-open Friday morning, according to the Student Council.

Counting of ballots will begin immediately after the closing of the polls by Student Court members.

The Student Court announced yesterday that ballots will have blank spaces for the purpose of writing-in candidates for the office of senior male and female court justices and other offices.

Due to lack of nominations, the office of court senior justice is vacant. A few other offices, such as prosecuting attorney, have only one candidate running.

Names of the ASB candidates and statements of their platforms appear on page four of today's issue.

ASB Candidates

To Meet Students

A special rally will be held today for all ASB candidates in the Outer Quad between 12 and 1 o'clock. It is being sponsored by the Inter-class council.

Each candidate will be interviewed by the master of ceremonies, Marv Braunstein. Entertainment will be furnished between 12:20 and 12:30 o'clock.

Purpose of the rally is to acquaint students with the candidates running for the various ASB offices.

Girl Groups Want All-College Affair

At a meeting of the Pan-Hellenic Council Monday afternoon, the sorority group voted unanimously against participating in the IFC-sponsored rooting section for the inter-squad football game to be held Saturday. The Inter-Fraternity Council had extended an invitation to the sororities to participate in the rooting sections.

According to Helen Dimmick, dean of women, the Pan-Hellenic Council felt that they didn't want to do anything concerning the rooting sections that could be interpreted as exclusively fraternity or sorority, and therefore uncooperative with the student body.

Contacted yesterday, Marion Swanson, president of the Pan-Hellenic Council, said, "We feel that the program should bring in all on-campus living groups rather than just sororities and frats." Dean Dimmick stated that Pan-Hellenic wanted to cooperate with the football team but wanted he rooting sections open to all.

"My personal feelings," the dean said, "are that the plan, as proposed, would have a tendency to pull the Greek and non-Greek letter students further apart. Under the new plan of including all living groups, I approve wholeheartedly of the rooting section arrangement."

Stewart McCullough, president of the Inter-Fraternity Council, received word of the Pan-Hellenic decision earlier in the week. In a telephone call, Pan-Hellenic president Marion Swanson told McCullough that the sororities could not participate because it would bring about "too much discrimination against their groups by other living groups." (See the sport page for further details on the game.)

United States government is far to the left of anything except Scandinavia and Britain."

Guest Actress Ironsides to Play Lead in 'Conways'

"Time and the Conways", sixth and final production in the 1949-50 drama season, will be marked by the appearance of a guest artist, Pat Ironside, in the lead role of Mrs. Conway.

Pat, a former student at San Jose State college, has worked on Broadway since her graduation, and her performance should prove a highlight of the season.

Jim Jensen and Bert Graf will play the roles of Robin and Alan, Mrs. Conway's sons. Gwen Samuelson, Gwen Darr, Shirley Wilber and Dorothy Williams will portray, respectively, Madge, Hazel, Kay and Carol, Mrs. Conway's daughters.

Joan Buechner will appear as Joan Helford, the girl next door. Cliff Roche will play Ernest Beevers, a newcomer to town who becomes Mrs. Conway's son-in-law, and Jim Clark will portray Gerald Thornton, a lawyer.

Skilly's Corner

By BOB SKILLICORN
Spartan Daily Editor

The "Third Man Theme" is a very appropriate piece of music for the Hollywood film production of the same name.

Here on Washington square the "One Man Theme" is the appropriate title for the musical selection of our latest production.

Our production, unlike the "Third Man", was a complete flop. This production of ours didn't rate four bells—it was given the gong!

What are we referring to?

Since 6999 students didn't see the production, we want to give you a somewhat late "sneak preview".

The production was titled "Special Nomination Assembly" and it was "shown" Monday at 12:30 o'clock in the Student Union. The main theme of the production was to nominate candidates to positions of senior male and female court justices.

Our title, however, was poorly chosen. There was no semblance of an assembly in our production. Instead, our 6999 "playwrights" decided to give our story a new twist. In our show just one man showed up. What a laugh the audience got from that unexpected development.

Our carefree, apathetic "playwrights" should have taken a cue from Hollywood and named our production "The One Man". That title is much more fitting for our amateur fiasco.

Our production's musical piece, "The One Man Theme" was dissonant to say the least. There was no harmony or cooperation in our musical score. Our musicians just didn't give a darn.

Yes, Hollywood, you can have your "Third Man Theme" 'cause we've got our "One Man Theme" and, brother, it's unique. And get this, Hollywood, even though our production has been panned by the local press, our 6999 "playwrights" are proud of their show.

After all, Hollywood, even you with all your technical know-how and ballyhoo couldn't hope to produce as good a human comedy as we had here.

We're just talented that way!

Thrust and Parry

Need for Cooperation

Dear Thrust and Parry:

Your column of May 11 carries a letter from SB 4207, a senior, who has apparently discovered only recently that cheating sometimes occurs, but who has not yet discovered that others have known this for a long time and that for two and a half years our students and faculty have been cooperating in an endeavor to develop a unique San Jose Fairness System.

Composing a letter for Thrust and Parry may relieve the emotions of SB 4207 and have other desirable consequences. But the Bill of Student Obligations, adopted by the Student Council after considerable student discussion, posted in many classrooms, and printed frequently in the Daily, asserts that any student observing instances of unfairness has an obligation to do more than write such a letter.

Since December 1947 our faculty has done more intelligent thinking and discussing about this problem than any other college faculty in the world. Many student organizations, and many individual students, have expressed their approval of the progress made. The fact that a senior can write in seeming ignorance of this growing campus opinion, and of the techniques available for expressing it, indicates the continuing need for active cooperation by all who support the advancement of our Fairness System.

Elmo A. Robinson.

AN OPEN LETTER

Members of A.S.B.:

The student administration of San Jose State college is now BIG BUSINESS amounting to over $100,000 per year; this money belongs to the associated students holding student body cards—it belongs to you.

When a State college swells in population and activities, as we have, it becomes very evident that certain qualifications be considered in electing any candidate to properly administer these funds.

It is with this in mind that I wish to submit my qualifications to you when you elect a TREASURER this Thursday:

First off, I am a graduate of the Army's Finance school at Camp Beale, California; secondly, I served nearly two years in the Finance Department of the Army, auditing, accounting, recording and paying; finally, I have a sincere interest in administration.

If you consider this experience valuable for one who is seeking the position of TREASURER, I appreciate your confidence and shall do all in my power to ably fill that office.

HARVEY D. JORDAN.

The Prexy Says

By DON SCHAEFFER
ASB President

Tomorrow and Friday we will be picking the people who will lead and represent us for the next 365 days.

You may not be interested in student government as such and may not be a politics-type guy, but as sure as Viola Palmer has your name in her files you still are going to San Jose State college and you will be an alumnus of Washington Square for a long time to come. Let's face it—we're stuck with each other.

Let's take a look at what these people we elect will be doing next year. In the first place, they will have more than $100,000 of our money to kick around (that's dollars, bub) and will have their fingers in assets that amount to a great deal more than that.

In the second place, our athletics will be going big-time then; we will be "independents". We will not only be independents in the athletic sense, but our status in other fields will grow. That is, it will grow if we have a student body that warrants additional prestige from the other schools. What can bring this about? EFFICIENT, MATURE STUDENT GOVERNMENT.

Third, we have had some of our old traditions either battered or badly bruised in the past by unfortunate circumstances. The administration was forced to take the stand it did because in its opinion, students were showing a lack of ability to control their own affairs. When we can demonstrate that we are capable of doing things right for ourselves, these privileges and activities can be restored (witness Revelries this year).

To do this takes strong organization, cooperation of all of us and GOOD MEN IN THE TOP SPOTS. (That's still a ballot in your hands, son, not a crossword puzzle).

Fourth, let's look ahead a little. We are all going to be leaving these hallowed halls some day and for good or bad, we have had it; we will be San Jose State college alumni. Whatsoever SJSC will be then, so will we be. This can be a terrific thing for us and in most areas it is. We are headed for still greater things; that is, if we can keep a student body organization headed in the right direction.

However, all it takes is a little apathy on the part of we students and a few 'chowder heads in the Student Body offices and we are back in the "San Jose State—whersat?" era.

So it's all up to us again—tomorrow and Friday—to set things rolling for another and greater year. There are some fine people running for office, people who can give us efficient and strong student government next year. There are also some people running who are as qualified for the position they seek as this article is for the Pulitzer prize. Yet these people could get into office, backed by their well-meaning but short-sighted friends and organizations.

Because of poor student government we could lose our Santa Clara and COP athletic competition, our Homecoming, our Spar-di Gras permanently and practically anything else over which we now have control.

Tomorrow you can cast your ballot. Find out who will do the best job and VOTE yourself a share of the future.

Preferential Ballot To Be Used Tomorrow

Above is a reproduction of the new Spartan Preferential ballot to be used in tomorrow's ASB elections. The ballot is by no means complete but is a representative example. Note that the ballot is marked to denote the voters first, second and third choices for the particular office, the "X" being placed in the appropriate choice column.

Voters can follow this procedure when voting: In the first column, indicate your first-choice candidate. In the second column, assume a run-off with the first choice candidate eliminated, then indicate from the remaining candidates your second choice. The same procedure is followed for third choice votes, assuming a third run-off with the first and second choice candidates eliminated, select the third choice candidate from the remaining candidates running.

Voters must remember that ballots are first counted according to first choice votes. Vote for candidates in order of preference.

Police Fraternity Occupies Only Departmental House

By RONALD MARCUS

Beneath a palm tree on the corner of 8th and San Antonio streets, stands the home of the Chi Pi Sigma fraternity.

No different structurally, and hardly more imposing than other dwellings in the area, the Chi Pi Sigma house remains apart for one reason; it is the only departmental fraternity house on the San Jose State college campus. Twenty-eight men from the college Police school call it home.

The fraternity was founded as an "on campus" organization in 1935. It was dormant during the war, and reactivated in 1947. The house was previously occupied by a social fraternity. Redecoration by San Jose State's "finest," has added to the house the homey atmosphere peculiar to young men who regard "order" as master.

Previous to occupancy in their present home, the future gentlemen resided at 265 North Fifth street. They obtained this, their first fraternity house, in 1947.

In August of 1949 they moved into their present abode on Eighth and San Antonio streets. Fraternity members had to move fast in order to get the house into shape before the school term began. At present there are 28 Chi Pi Sigma members living in the house; 14 upstairs, 12 on the main floor, and 2 in the basement.

This is a marked improvement over the Fifth street residence where they had three houses for 25 men. The practicality of having all the members in one central building, outweighing the space advantage.

The aims of the Chi Pi Sigma are: "To promote good fellowship and to offer an opportunity for each member to learn and respect the opinion of others, to assume a part in the group obligations, and to share activities."

These aims are particularly significant, when you consider the fact that any group of young male students must first get along well together in order to maintain a successful departmental fraternity house.

Candidates for three representative posts in the California state assembly will speak at a forum meeting Friday night at 8 o'clock in the DeAnza hotel ballroom, according to Bob Whitall, chairman of the college committee for the San Jose Young Republicans.

The Young Republicans are sponsoring the meeting, at which candidates for the 18th senatorial district, the 28th and 29th assembly districts, all in Santa Clara County, will present their platforms.

The forum is open to everyone, including San Jose State college students, Whitall said.

The program will be broadcast over station KEEN.

VOICES IN THE WIND

From Other College Campuses

By HELEN DAVIS

Since 1944, four moving pictures have been made on the University of Nevada campus at Reno. Hollywood producers, apparently believing that Nevada is typical of American college life, made "Margie," "Apartment for Peggy," "Mr. Belvedere Goes To College," and "Mother Is A Freshman" on the Wolfpack stamping grounds.

A Student Leadership Conference, much like the training series to be given here, was held last week on the Stanford campus to discuss problems raised in student government and its organizations. Speakers included several Deans of the university and student leaders. The conference was designed to give interested students a well-rounded background of material with which to understand the problems of the university community.

A clean-up machine which makes its way among cigarette stubs, lecture notes and lunch bags, restoring order out of chaos, is now familiar to CCSF students. The machine, army surplus, was repainted, embellished with the City College label and christened "Co-ed." Painted across its nose is "S.F. City College"—to which the Guardsman, student newspaper, mildly protested. It's City College of San Francisco, officially.

Joe E. Brown made a surprise appearance recently at the Awards convocation for seniors at the University of Hawaii. Brown, who is appearing in the Honolulu Community Theatre play, "Harvey," was made an honorary member of the H club, composed of outstanding UH athletes. Brown was an outstanding baseball player in his college days.

A chance to rate their professors under a new rating system of questionnaire evaluation may be the future privilege of students at San Diego State college. The proposal was made by a Faculty-Administration relations committee. The committee which would handle the evaluations will be composed of students and faculty members.

Fines of $10 each were imposed by the Senate Elections Investigating committee at University of Southern California last week against two members of the Greater University Party for distributing illegal and misleading leaflets in the current election campaign at USC. Members of the GUP will not be allowed to take office, if elected, until the fines are paid.

An agitated case of Spring Fever was the alleged cause of the water riot started in Syracuse, N.Y. a few days ago when two Syracuse university students, belonging to different fraternities, started a water pistol fight. The thing grew until finally most of the student body was participating in the riot, throwing buckets-full of water at each water.

Third World War Is Possible Says Defense Department

By BILL CHAMBERS

"A third world war is not a remote possibility. Neither is it inevitable," says the National Defense department.

This is National Defense Week. Radio stations, newspapers, and U.S. Army publicity organs are this week calling the attention of the American people to the fact that without adequate defense, this country would be in immediate danger of conquest by belligerent world powers.

The veterans at San Jose State college, 2511 of them, know the terrors and consequences of war. Many of them also are intimately acquainted with what happened at Pearl Harbor when we were inadequate in defense and alertness.

Members of the staff of the ROTC department at San Jose State college will speak at various civic organizations this week to attempt to impress the seriousness of the need for strong defense organs.

The number of men in our regular military forces today number about one and a half million. These men are the "shock absorber" of our defense plan. Behind them stand the reserve organizations of the various service branches.

Enrollment in the ROTC department at SJSC is 306 students. Of these, about 170 are veterans who have contact with the present plans for defense. Few students know even a little about the country's preparedness.

This week of informing the public of the country's defenses will terminate with Armed Forces day on May 20. Military posts the country over will show displays of equipment and methods of defense.

Moffett Field Naval Air Base will open its gates to the public this Saturday. Lectures on methods of defense, equipment displays, and troop and air maneuvers will highlight the program. The gates will be open to the public all day from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Dr. Vannevar Bush, wartime director of the Office of Scientific Research and Development, says, "There need be no more great wars; yet there may be. If democracy loses its touch, then no great war will be needed to overcome it. It keeps and enhances its strength, no great great war need come again. Yet there is chance and change; a great war may come in ways we do not see, and free men must be ready."

President

Bob Custer, ASB presidential candidate, says: "School enthusiasm and spirit can be created by more student body sponsored activities." Bob Custer is a junior business administration major from Glendale.

Custer has been a member of Spartan Shields and maintains a weekly radio show which highlights life around the Spartan campus. He stresses the need for a more representative government. "I want to see more representation and more interest in activities by creating activities. These would give the students an opportunity to work together in a more closely knit unit."

"I would like to see more on-campus rallies next year where the student body officers could have a chance to participate and become acquainted with the students. I would sincerely attempt to win the confidence of the administration so that student government can become more functional."

Dave Down, ASB presidential candidate, says: "A stronger representation of the students in running the administrative activities of student government."

"I am in favor of an independent government, a more comprehensive health program for those not covered at present, and more student activities to keep pace with the rapid expansion of the student body and college, for example, a concert series," he continued.

Mitchell "Mitch" Kanalak is running for president of the Associated Students on a three-plank platform. "Mitch" is a junior P.E. and commerce major and has attended San Jose State for the full three years of his college career. He is a graduate of San Leandro high school.

While at San Leandro, he was president of both his sophomore and junior classes. He was student body president his senior year. Kanalak represented his high school on the city council juvenile board and as a representative to Boy's State.

"Mitch" outlined his platform as: Stronger support for athletic events to gain SJS national recognition, the return of Spardi Gras on a modified basis, and better harmony between Student Council, faculty, and Revelries committee.

Ray Lyon, candidate for ASB presidency, favors the development of the town hall meeting where students can air their gripes. He also wants to continue the survey of a new Student Hospital Plan. A strong athletic program and a definite program for Revelries are also planks in Lyon's platform.

The candidate is a commerce major from San Francisco. He has been chairman of the Revelries board and representative at large on the Student Council for the past year.

David Millovich, ASB presidential candidate, says: "San Jose State college is in the doldrums with its activities. One by one they have been cut out by the administration. It is necessary and essential that we revive our student activities."

A physical education major from Glendale, Calif., Millovich feels the spirit and interest in student government and activities has been at a low ebb in the past few years. "It takes no critical analysis to perceive that the students now wish to achieve their rightful place of prominence. We need organization."

Ed Mosher, candidate for ASB president, declares: "A progressive administration which primarily gives the students a more independent hand in government is what I believe is needed at San Jose State college."

Mosher, who served two years as Homecoming chairman and three years on the Rally committee, stated, "Such things as the curtailment of Spardi Gras and the rigid controls over Revelries shouldn't be allowed to happen again." He advocates a reorganization of certain phases of some student committees.

The aspirant for president is a San Jose resident. He is a junior speech and drama major.

Vice-President

Bob Madsen, vice-presidential candidate, says a closer correlation between the Student Council and the Physical Education department should be arranged. He feels the students should know where the funds are going and how they are being used.

Madsen, a junior from San Jose, has held the office of class representative to the Student Council for his freshman, sophomore and junior classes. During his sophomore year he was president of his class. He feels he would like to help foster more student interest in student body affairs and this could be brought about by a more active class council program.

Ed Miller is a candidate for vice-president. He is a junior, has played three years of football at San Jose State, and had a part in this year's production of Revelries. Ed is an economics major.

In his platform, Ed Miller favors more student participation in activities and more rallies.

Jack Scheberries says: "Because I have served on the Student Council for the last year, I feel qualified to run for the office of Student Body vice-president."

Scheberries is a navy veteran. He served as sophomore representative to the student council. He attended Fremont high school in Oakland, California.

Recording Sec'y.

Barbara Downey, recording secretary candidate, declares: "Past experience as student body secretary for Monterey Peninsula college makes me feel that I am capable of handling the job of recording secretary at San Jose State college."

Miss Downey is a junior education major from Monterey. She feels it is the duty of the recording secretary to cooperate with student body officers as well as the administration.

Pat MacFadden, recording secretary candidate, says: "One who serves the student body should be interested in the school affairs. It is up to the leaders not only to lead but also to serve the students," Pat MacFadden, junior education from Sacramento, Calif., stated yesterday.

As a former member of the sophomore and junior class councils Miss MacFadden says, she realizes the important job a student has who serves in governmental affairs. "I would like to have the opportunity to serve my school, and I will try to do my best."

Marian Swanson, recording secretary candidate, is seeking the position of recording secretary. Miss Swanson is a junior education major from Kingsburg, Calif. A former student body representative to Camp Miniwanca, Miss Swanson feels that cooperation with the Student Council is the most effective way to do a job.

Corresponding Secretary

Loretta Thureson, candidate for corresponding secretary, says: "I would fulfill the duties of the corresponding secretary to the best of my ability, and would keep the correspondence up to date." Miss Thureson, a sophomore, is an occupational therapy major who has taken part in work of the Social Affairs committee for the past year.

Treasurer

Pete Cirivilleri, candidate for treasurer, feels he is qualified for the job of treasurer because he has had "a good deal of accounting experience." Cirivilleri is an accounting major from Pittsburg, California. He was sophomore and

Lieutenant Colonel James Watts, Military Science department, has received orders to report to the Commanding General Staff school, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, at the end of the summer quarter, according to Colonel James Hea, head of the SJS ROTC department.

Harvey Jordan, candidate for ASB treasurer, advocates "larger facilities for the Spartan Daily, Speech and Drama department, Police school, and full support of a larger athletic program."

Jordan, a junior Political Science major, feels that he is qualified for the office, having graduated from the Army finance school and spending two years in the Army finance department.

Although he has not held any offices at SJS, Jordan was student body president at Santa Ana Senior high and vice-president of the freshman class at Bellarmine high in San Jose. He was active in sports during his prep days, having competed in football and swimming at Santa Ana and tennis at Bellarmine.

Male Rep.-at-large

Steve Everett, candidate for representative-at-large, maintains that San Jose State college is rapidly becoming one of the top Pacific coast colleges.

"We have gained prominence as a teacher-training institution and now we are being recognized for our all around athletic program," Everett stated. Everett is a junior from Los Angeles. He formerly attended Santa Monica City College where he was on the student council.

Richard Thiel, candidate for representative-at-large, is a sophomore at San Jose State college from Palo Alto. Thiel has held several class offices such as freshman class treasurer, and member of the class council.

Trying to emphasize the lack of interest which students seem to have about governmental affairs, Thiel stated, "As a student body officer, I would feel it my responsibility to create more of an interest in student body activities."

Women's Rep.-at-large

Barbara Gale, candidate for representative-at-large, says: "I promise to represent the entire student body, not just one group." Barbara is a junior who transferred from San Francisco State. She is majoring in occupational therapy.

Barbara feels that social activity is one way to integrate more activities that all can enter.

Jr. Council Rep.

Owen Hall is running for junior representative. He is a sophomore, majoring in commercial art. Through Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, he has this year been heading a program to bring foreign students to institutions in this country where educational opportunities are greater.

Jack Shippe, candidate for junior class council representative, says: "I have been a steady member of the sophomore class council and I promise to be just as faithful in attendance at the student council meetings if I am elected junior class representative."

Shippe is a police major from Reading, Pennsylvania.

Soph Council Rep.

Dan Knowles, candidate for sophomore representative, says: "In an election such as this, the question is not so much who can do the job as who will do it? My only campaign promise is that if elected, I will do the job successfully."

Knowles is a freshman music major from Campbell, Calif. In high school he was editor of the school paper and treasurer of the student body.

George MacDonald, candidate for sophomore class representative, stated yesterday that, "he would work hard to make the class of '53 the most cooperative and active organization at SJS."

MacDonald has been on the frosh council for two quarters. He is a business administration major from Oakland.

Saturday, May 13, was the date chosen by TMS to honor their parents. The chapter house on S. 10th street was the site of the regular Mother's club meeting, with fathers also in attendance.

Tennis Slate Nears Climax

The 1950 tennis season will close Saturday, when the San Jose State college Spartans face Pepperdine college for the CCAA crown on the Spartan village courts. The Saturday date was set after two prior postponements.

On Friday, Coach Ted Mumby's net clan treks to a nearby farm, commonly referred to as Stanford university, where the Gold and White will attempt to down the strong Indian netsters. Stanford returned from their weekend southern tour with two more defeats to their record.

USC and UCLA, the two Los Angeles net powers, brushed aside the Cards in easy fashion, but the Injuns will be lukewarm favorites to trip San Jose.

Pepperdine, southern division winners of the CCAA conference, and San Jose are rated even. The Waves will be after a loop crown in their initial year in the CCAA. The Raiders, enjoying one of their most successful years, hope to bow out of the conference with a league title.

The SJS season record now stands at 15 wins, 5 losses, for a .750 percentage.

Frosh Hiders Bow Before Dons, 11-4

Coach Tom Cureton's baseball youngsters went wild by committing six errors as the University of San Francisco freshmen blasted the San Joseans, 11-4, yesterday at Municipal stadium.

The host squad grasped but four hits from the offerings of the Don hurling staff, while three Spartan twirlers served the visiting batsmen 11 juicy bingles.

San Jose catcher Ron Beach kept the Gold and White batters plate warm with two hits.

Social Groups Back Grid Scrimmage

By "Rod" Rodrigues

All campus organizations are invited to submit entries to back either White or Gold teams in the first annual student supported football game to be held Saturday morning, May 20, from 10 o'clock to noon, at Spartan stadium, Bill Perry, assistant coach, announced yesterday.

This is not the intrasquad game, which will be held June 7.

Campus interest is mounting for the game and a large student turnout is expected. Perry requested that all campus organizations interested in contributing their support to one of the teams submit their entries to him in the Men's gym office before noon Thursday.

Representatives are asked to leave their names along with the applications. Names will be drawn out of a hat for the purpose of team-backing assignments. Perry will notify the representatives as to which team they will support Thursday afternoon.

Participating organizations are requested to back their teams to the utmost, either vocally or with

Sports Stentorian

The arduous ascent of San Jose State college to the top in athletics recently assumed double-barreled proportions with the founding of the SPAR-TEN club. The club members, who fork over $10 apiece to join, receive sundry privileges, including choice seats at Spartan athletic events.

The club now numbers 250 members, and still is growing, according to Glenn "Tiny" Hartman, PE department head. The tremendous success of so-called Boosters' clubs at other colleges prompted SJSC's move to found a club. Stanford's "Buck of the Month" club has permitted the Farm to obtain many of the state's prized freshman athletes.

Recently, the Bulldog boosters of Fresno State threw their hat into the ring, and ostentatiously so. Running a full-page ad in the Fresno Bee, the boosters called for, of all things, more boosters. Prospective Fresno State backers, who collectively will be grouped under the masthead, "Bulldog Foundation," are requested to pay $1000 to join, or less. Catch that "or less." The boosters want $32,500 for 35 varsity scholarships and 30 freshman scholarships.

Menges the Prestidigitator Prepares for Saturday

Saturday's game will be the first chance for students to see the gridgers in action before the intra-squad game. All students are invited to attend.

Gold and White teams will be headed by Quarterbacks Gene Menges and Dean Sensenbaugh, respectively. Team rosters will not be made up until game time.

verbal pebble throw in the rivulet. SJSC fame, garnered from athletic conquests of recent years, has helped the Spartan basketball team cinch a spot on the Madison square garden schedule for next season.

What team the Golden Raiders will meet is unknown. The garden game entails an eastern junket which calls for some fancy scheduling of cross-country affrays to keep the hoopsters busy.

Along with the other casaba pilots attending the NCAA coaches convention in March, Walt McPherson was asked to vote on the assets and liabilities of the controversial two-minute rule. The vote was unanimous for elimination of the rule, but among the few dissenters was our McPherson.

Actually, the SJSC coach was not voting for prolongation of the statute, but for adoption of another regulation with sundry changes. "Mac" favored the system used in the Big Ten conference last season.

There, the colleges agreed to change the objectionable part of the rule so that a team leading in the last two minutes of the game does not get automatic control of the ball after a free throw or a toss-up.

America has its Taft-Hartley law, Kansas has its "blue laws," but the NCAA boxing by-laws have have the "Tafoya Medical rule," named after Al Tafoya, San Jose State colleges' great 130-lb. boxer.

The rule evolved from the Wisconsin-SJSC bouts of last year at Madison. Midway through the joust, Tafoya suffered a gash above the eye, which sent the scrappy Santa Clara to the dressing room for medical treatment.

The lone physician in attendance was "disinclined" toward treating the boxer because "he wanted to watch the bouts." Meanwhile, the gladiator's injury mushroomed to golf-ball size and time ambled on.

Because of the delay in treating the injury, Tafoya was kept out of the NCAA tourney. The incident, however, was brought to the attention of the rules committee. Now a minimum of two "sawbones" must be present at all boxing matches. The sobriquet, "Tafoya medical rule," was originated by Dee, and Al yet has to live it down.

Golfers Win; Hopkins Stars

Jay Hopkins, with a six under par 64, set a new San Jose State college golf record yesterday as the Spartans defeated the University of Santa Clara, 24½ to 2½, at La Rinconada.

Playing No. 3 position Hopkins posted the lowest medal score ever shot by a SJS golfer in competitive play. He bettered, by a stroke, Warren MacCarty's round of 65 scored against Stanford at San Jose Country club in 1948.

In all Hopkins had eight birdies, eight pars, and two bogies. Four of those birdies came in succession as he chopped a stroke off par on the sixth, seventh, eighth, and ninth holes.

Hopkins was four under on the front nine. After taking a bogie on the 12th he got birdies on the 13th, 15th, and 18th holes.

Lost somewhat in the brightness of his teammate's achievements, MacCarty posted a very respectable two under par 68, in combining talents with Ken Venturi to blank Pat Kennedy and Don Keith on all three counts in the feature match.

Hopkins and Tony Poschopny trimmed John Kilty and Joe Dunlap, 7-2. Dunlap won the points for the Broncos by edging Poschopny.

Inter-frat Council Sponsors Sing-fest

Harmony from male choruses will fill the Morris Dailey auditorium at 7:30 p.m. May 31. The second annual spring sing sponsored by the Inter-fraternity council will take place two weeks from Wednesday, according to Charles Abildgaard, chairman of the Spring Sing committee.

All members of the Inter-fraternity council may participate. The winner will be awarded the perpetual trophy, won last year by Sigma Alpha Epsilon. There is no award for other participants.

Each entrant will be allowed to sing two songs and will be judged on musical presentation and appearance. IFC rules prohibit solos, instrumental accompaniment, and props. Each group may wear any costumes they choose.

Three judges will pick the winner. They have not as yet been chosen.

The Spring Sing committee rotates each year to a different member of the council. Arrangements for the affair last spring were handled by Theta Chi, and will be taken over this year by Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

College Airmen Wing for Prizes

Despite high fog and limited visibility until early in the afternoon, Alpha Eta Rho's third annual air meet found J. M. Cook taking first place in the barrier landing event and third in level bombing to take first place honors.

The meet was held Sunday at the Warm Springs airport and saw San Jose State college students and faculty members competing for honors. In the only faculty event, D. L. James and Thomas Leonard, as a team, defeated O. A. Israelson and Josh Brady in the Navigation event.

Second prize in the student category went to Pat Flanagan for her second place in the 180 spot landings and second in the barrier landings.

Individual scores were as follows: 360 spot landing — Lowell Grattan, 1st; 180 spot landings — Bill Ross, 1st, Pat Flanagan, 2nd, Harold Stevens, 3rd; level bombing — Dave Hay, 1st, Tip Harr, 2nd, J. M. Cook, 3rd; barrier landings — J. M. Cook, 1st, Pat Flanagan, 2nd, Howard Stepp, 3rd.

Pitman to Speak

Dean of Men Paul M. Pitman, who leaves San Jose State college June 30 to become president of the College of Idaho, will be the speaker Sunday at the 11 a.m. services of the First Congregational church.

The Rev. Stephen C. Peabody, pastor of the church, extends an invitation to college students to attend the service to hear Dean Pitman's "farewell address."

Chapel Ball Committee Signs Dick Reinhart and Orchestra

Dick Reinhart and his orchestra have been signed by the Social Affairs committee to play for the May 27 Chapel Ball, according to Chairman Duke Deras.

Recently featured at the Edge-water in San Francisco, Reinhart and his unit will introduce singer Betty Brownell to SJSC ball attendants, Deras says.

The traditional Chapel dance has been changed to a "dressy," rather than a semi-formal, affair, according to an announcement made during the regular Social Affairs meeting on Monday.

Gold and white starred bids will be distributed to student body card holders next week, Deras says. The duets, which are free to ASB members, will be handled in a Library Arch booth. "The 600 available bids are expected to go quickly," the chairman said.

Decorations will consist of a royal blue ceiling for the Civic auditorium, upon which 210 gold stars will be highlighted, Dorothy Littig, decorations chairman, disclosed. The chapel replica, which is being constructed by Alpha Phi Omega, will be the outstanding attraction of the evening.

Patrons for the evening will include Dean Helen Dimmick, Dean Paul Pitman, Mrs. Izetta Pritchard, Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Luck, Miss Anna Loze, and Mr. Edward Cundiff.

Intermission entertainment will be furnished by SJSC coed Miss Betty June Holt, popular campus vocalist, Deras disclosed.

Students Debate

A team from City college of San Francisco took part in a debate with a San Jose State college team yesterday morning in Room B 14, according to Wilbur F. Luck, Forensics adviser.

The Spartan team of Glyndon Riley and Bill Morris took the affirmative side of the debate question, whether basic non-agricultural industries should be nationalized.

The negative side was taken by Dick Schnal and Paul Peterson of the City college of San Francisco.

Smith Will Give Speech

Dr. Ralph J. Smith, head of the Engineering department at San Jose State college and president of the Engineers club of San Jose, will address a banquet of the Santa Clara Valley Architects' association to be held tonight at Santa Cruz. His subject will be, "Bridges That Failed."

Marsh Pitman to Attend Field School

Marsh Pitman, senior biological science major, is one of 20 students and recent college graduates in the United States to be selected to attend the 1950 session of the Yosemite Field school. The school, sponsored by the National Park service, will open June 25 for a seven-week session. Pitman, son of Dean and Mrs. Paul M. Pitman, was recommended by Dr. Carl Duncan, head of the Natural Science department, and other members of the science faculty. He has been active in student affairs at SJS since his enrollment in the college early in 1948, following his discharge from the United States Army.

The purpose of the Yosemite Field school, which was established in 1925, is to give training in interpreting natural history to the public. More than 100 of its graduates have been employed by the National Park service.

During the fifth and sixth weeks of the Field school course the students will take several trips to the high country in Yosemite National park and to Mono lake. They will also climb to the summit of Mt. Dana which is 13,050 feet high.

The school is open to college graduates or those whose accomplishments are equivalent to a college degree, but each year's enrollment is limited to 20.

According to Miss Viola Palmer, registrar, Miss Lyons is filling a vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Florence Myers.

Miss Lyons, who lives in Sunvale, will be hired on a full-time basis upon graduation.

It will be shown today at 4:30 and 8:15 p.m. in the Little Theater. Student admission is 30 cents, and tickets will be on sale at the door.

Police Students To Enjoy Steaks

An estimated 250 people will sharpen up their knives and appetites Friday when San Jose State Police school students, associates, and friends hold their annual banquet at Alum Rock park.

The hot stove session will include a joint meeting of Lambda Alpha Epsilon, in-service fraternity, and Chi Phi Sigma, on-campus police fraternity, according to Director Willard E. Schmidt. LAE had its founding here in 1938.

Police chiefs from outlying districts have been invited to attend the "bull session," Mr. Schmidt declared.

Mr. Schmidt has been delegated a chef's role for the affair.

Senior Overnight

Sign-ups for the Senior Overnight, scheduled for June 3 and 4 at Asilomar, will be extended for several more weeks, according to Overnight Chairman Betty Brisbin.

Cost of the annual senior scramble has been lowered to $4.75. A $3 deposit is required of seniors at the time of signing. An additional $1.75 will be payable by June 1.

"Including transportation, lodging, and meals, price for the week-end frolic is really at a minimum," Miss Brisbin said. Highlight of the upper-class retreat will be a moonlight, weaner roast. Swimming, beach-time, tennis, volleyball, and football also head the entertainment agenda.

Private cars will leave at 11 o'clock Saturday, June 3, and will return on Sunday, June 4, at 6 o'clock, Miss Brisbin added. Students interested in the trek are asked to sign up in the Library arch.

New Library Volumes Include Assorted Historical Accounts

Colorful stories of historical sections and individuals are prominent among the 160 new books received by the library.

A very precise and exact account of the Smithsonian Institute is revealed by Paul H. Oehser in "Sons of Science." The author begins with the idea forwarded by John Smithson, an English scientist, who conceived the building of the shrine in Washington, D.C. Mr. Oehser traces the development of science's "hall of fame" through its outstanding directors and branches.

"James Madison, Father of the Constitution," is a thick volume by Irving Brant giving the inside story of the little president's role in teething-ring days of this country. It characterizes Madison's personality, family life, and policy during the years he was top executive.

"Tales of Old Calaveras," by Richard C. Wood, is a series of historical yarns, some mythical, some authentic, of the sprawling Calaveras county in the early pioneer days of California. A lot of humor can be had by reading these short folk tales.

The pompous story of ill-fated Maximilian and his wife, Carlotta, in Mexico is found in H.

Montgomery Hydes "Mexican Empire." Episodes of the transplanted European monarch are covered fully by author Hydes.

Modern food for thought is supplied in two unusual volumes. Stanford's Karl Brant stresses the importance of economic recovery in, "Germany—Key to Peace in Europe."

He emphasizes the need for German rehabilitation as a means to the end of the tension and discomfort of the Allies there.

Sidney Warren, a penman from far-away Florida, lends an outsider's version of Oregon, Washington, and Idaho in his historical study of the Pacific northwest, "Farthest Frontier."

Religious themes come exclusively in a number of books. Foremost are "The Psalms," a new chronological translation by Moses Bittenwieser; "Religious Trends in English Poetry," Hoxie Fairchild; and "History of Religious Art," Maurice Denis.

Commerce Frat To Initiate Prof

Fifteen members will be initiated at the formal meeting of Eta Mu Pi, national merchandising fraternity, according to Mr. John Aberle, professor of commerce. The affair will take place tonight at Lou's Village.

Among the members being initiated is Mr. Jack Holland, professor of commerce. Principal speaker for the affair will be Mr. R. A. Malzhan, manager of Pay-Less drug store.

The San Jose chapter of Eta Mu Pi was founded on March 27, 1941, by Mr. Carleton Pederson. It is the first chapter to be established on the Pacific Coast. Mr. Pederson is now teaching at the Graduate School of Business at Stanford university.
